

From: Michael Zeleny <zeleny>
Subject: Re: satisfaction
Date: December 11, 1999 3:21:21 AM PST
To: eryn74@netscape.net, eryn74@rocketmail.com
Cc: zeleny
Received: (from zeleny@localhost) by oak.math.ucla.edu (8.8.8/8.8.8) id DAA18141; Sat, 11 Dec 1999 03:21:21 -0800 (PST)
Message-Id: <199912111121.DAA18141@oak.math.ucla.edu>
Content-Length: 3704
Status: O
X-Mozilla-Status: 8015
X-Mozilla-Status2: 00000000
X-Uid: 3852372e0000008e

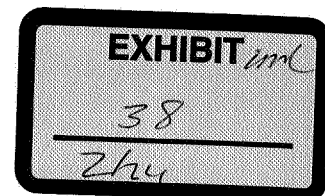

My point is not to incriminate but to diagnose with a view towards seeking a cure. Whatever you can fault me for, try not to forget that I was always there for you, no matter what it cost me. I supported you through travails and tribulations that not only ran counter to my own interests, but actually caused me intense pain and discomfort on a daily basis. Do not confuse yourself into thinking that I seek to fix the anguish of the past several years by tying you into an untenable situation. At this time, my intention is to work this out in a way that allows us to do right by each other. I understand at least some of the claims that you make against me. Do understand that our joint work represents my debt liability stretching well into the six figures even before the past taxes and future contractual payments, never mind my sunk opportunity costs. And that accounts just for the utilitarian side of the matter. Believe you me, the last thing either of us wants is to commit to a deontological outlook guaranteed to obliterate our material interests. Do let's try to play nice, and play fast, in view of the impending deadline.

MZ

From eryn74@rocketmail.com Fri Dec 10 14:47:08 1999
Date: Fri, 10 Dec 1999 14:47:03 -0800 (PST)
From: Erin Zhu <eryn74@rocketmail.com>
Subject: Re: satisfaction
To: Michael Zeleny <zeleny>
MIME-Version: 1.0
X-Status:
X-Keywords:
X-UID: 112

There's an easy way to deal with Josh's computer situation: go into his control panel, select 'Network', then 'TCP/IP -> name of network adapter' and press 'properties', select the 'DNS configuration' tab, replace 209.79.189.100 with 209.79.189.202. Or put the .100 after the .202 entry in the DNS Server search order box.

Michael, I've let you walk away from so many things that you'd promised that you'd spent money from your parents and myself. I never dropped anything with Ira; it is not my fault that the deal with IDT went sour and there never was money to launch IPsite. Alex you know very well what kind of scam he was trying to run. I don't know what Dave you're talking about; if you mean Affeld & money owed to the lawyers I was certainly not the person who made the decision for those lawyers in the first place. And the book editors, jeez. Remember what kind of other book stuff I was buried in at the same time??? So drop this incriminating stuff if you want to solve anything.

Erin

--- Michael Zeleny <zeleny@math.ucla.edu> wrote:
Josh cannot finish the Trespass.NeT payout stats to satisfy Flycast without a stable name server. I am trying to fix Athena, who felt uncomfortable because of her erroneous lateral orientation and loose parts floating around in her chubby guts. A solitary jumper may have dislodged itself, and I have no way to determine its proper place.
I'll do what I can.

I am not even talking about redefining our partnership right now. At issue is the maintenance of our existing obligations to all paying and speculative ventures. Over the past decade I have watched you walking out of several freely elected and legally binding commitments pleading terminal exhaustion or initial miscalculation. Each time I hoped that when push came to shove, you would deal with me differently than you dealt with Dave, Ira, Alex, and the book editors. This is the moment of truth. I need you to be responsible. Please do not fail us now.

MZ

Do You Yahoo!?
Thousands of Stores. Millions of Products. All in one place.
Yahoo! Shopping: <http://shopping.yahoo.com>